From their Normandy base, French luxury catamaran builders Yachts Industries bring us their latest offering in the form of the new Yapluka 65' flybridge.

Twin aluminium hulls combine with her carbon boom and mast to make her light weight and allow swift sailing.

Gazing through the panoramic windscreens reveals smooth sumptuous interiors which provide a comfortable relaxation area. Complimented by localised air conditioning and temperature controls, the onboard bar comes equipped with fridge and ice maker, making the perfect additions to this functional entertaining space.

The owner's space is in the starboard hull where a large bedroom with double bed offers plenty of storage space. Atmospheric lighting options, a vanity desk and full length mirror are practical trimmings. The ensuite bathroom has a separate shower and the full size bath is available in porcelain or stainless steel.

The galley in the starboard hull is well equipped with modern appliances including large fridges, freezers, dishwasher, washing machine and microwave.

On deck, the aluminium central gangway is teak covered, as are the cockpit floor and transom steps. A "Sunbrella" side-protector can be added to the cockpit awning to offer complete cockpit enclosure. A solid teak table compliments the outside bar with grill and hood to complete the 65's harmonious style. APB
